Zainullah. S, Kom

Junior Programmer Mobile | Flutter dev | android dev | frontend dev
Pamekasan, East Java, Indonesia

Summary

I am a mobile programmer specializing in developing applications for both the Android and iOS platforms using Flutter. With my experience and dedication in understanding and mastering this technology, I have successfully created innovative mobile applications that deliver an exceptional user experience on both of these platforms. I believe that Flutter technology holds significant potential to revolutionize how we interact with mobile devices, and I am excited to continue contributing to the dynamic world of mobile app development. If you are looking for someone committed to delivering high-quality solutions for your projects, I would be delighted to collaborate with you.

Experience

Savana Pro

Application Developer

August 2023 - September 2023 (2 months)

Gresik Regency, East Java, Indonesia

I assisted my sibling in completing the Savana Pro application, focusing solely on editing its appearance.

Universitas Madura

Mobile Application Developer

March 2023 - July 2023 (5 months)

Pamekasan Regency, East Java, Indonesia

The Plant Recommendation App, developed for my thesis, provides recommendations for plants that are suitable for planting during both the rainy and dry seasons, helping users determine the right plants to grow according to ever-changing weather conditions.

Tambak Udang

Mobile Developer

March 2023 - July 2023 (5 months)

Sumenep, East Java, Indonesia

I take pride in being able to contribute to my friend's academic journey. When my friend faced challenges in completing his thesis application, I was more than happy to provide the necessary assistance. We worked together to overcome various hurdles, such as technical issues or difficulties with data analysis. Together, we successfully completed the thesis application, and I feel delighted to have helped my friend achieve his academic milestone.

CV.NATUSI

Mobile Application Developer

January 2023 - April 2023 (4 months)

Mojokerto Regency, East Java, Indonesia

My skill set includes Mobile Applications, Git, and Flutter. As a Mobile Applications developer, I specialize in designing, developing, and maintaining applications for both iOS and Android platforms. With Git, I efficiently manage version control and collaborate effectively with team members, ensuring smooth code management. Flutter is my forte, allowing me to build cross-platform mobile applications with a single codebase, saving time and effort in development. This combination of skills enables me to create innovative and user-friendly mobile applications while efficiently managing the development process.

Kampus Merdeka

Mobile Application Developer

August 2022 - December 2022 (5 months)

Bandung, West Java, Indonesia

For 5 months, I participated in the Kampus Merdeka program and served as a frontend developer in a mobile application development team. I concentrated on designing and improving the user interface (UI) of the application, collaborated with other team members, solved technical issues, and utilized various development technologies to ensure the application functioned smoothly. Throughout this program, I also gained valuable training and experience in the technology industry.

Education

Universitas Madura

Bachelor's degree, Informatics · (August 2019 - July 2023)
